

PRESS NOTICE

Commenting on Jeremy Hunt's speech to the Royal Television Society, Susie Winter, Director General of the Alliance Against IP Theft said:

"We are heartened to hear the Secretary of State unequivocally say that unlawfully distributing copyrighted material is theft, and a direct assault on the freedoms and rights of creators of content. We welcome his words of warning to ISPs and search engines, advertisers and credit card companies; we believe these companies have a key role to play in ensuring the internet is a safe and orderly marketplace for consumers."

NOTES TO EDITORS

ABOUT THE ALLIANCE

Established in 1998, the Alliance Against IP Theft is a UK-based coalition of trade associations and enforcement organisations with an interest in ensuring intellectual property rights receive the protection they need and deserve. With a combined turnover of over £250 billion, our members include representatives of the audiovisual, music, games and business software, and sports industries, branded manufactured goods, publishers, retailers and designers.

The Alliance is concerned with ensuring that intellectual property rights are valued in the UK and that a robust, efficient legislative and regulatory regime exists, which enables these rights to be properly protected. Our members work closely with trading standards and local police forces to reduce the harm caused by intellectual property crime in local communities and to ensure that legitimate businesses and traders are able to operate fairly.

We work closely with the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills and the Intellectual Property Office to raise awareness of the harm caused by IP theft. We, and many of our members, are also participants in the IP Crime Group, which facilitates cross departmental dialogue and joint working amongst the relevant enforcement bodies and organisations.
